Infection Control Nurse

Job Description Template

We're seeking an experienced nurse to join the infection control team at our lakeside campus. Proudly holding magnet designation, [Facility name] offers opportunities for nurses to develop their expertise alongside a renowned team of healthcare professionals. If you're an innate problem solver who has a passion for preventing disease outbreaks, we invite you to join our mission in delivering quality care to promote the best patient outcomes possible.

Benefits

- 401(k) matching
- Health insurance, with dental and vision
- Paid time off (PTO) and holidays
- Loan repayment program
- Continuing education (CE) credits
- Clinical career ladder opportunities

Duties and Responsibilities

- Develops, implements, and monitors standard precautions and infection control practices for all surgical and medical-surgical departments
- Updates and educates healthcare staff about infection control policy changes
- Investigates and monitors outbreaks, recommending modified procedures as appropriate
- Appropriately reports communicable diseases to local and state health departments
- May educate patients on infection control practices as necessary

Compensation and Shifts

- Pay range: $38 - $42/hour
- Schedule: Full time, 40 hours
- 5 days/week, 8-hour shifts (7a-3p)
- Location: [Insert city, state]
- Specialties: surgical and med-surg

Qualifications and Skills

- ADN or BSN from an accredited nursing school required (BSN preferred)
- Active nursing license administered by the [insert state] Board of Nursing
- BLS, PALS, and ACLS certifications required
- At least 2 years of acute care nursing experience required
- Infection control certification preferred

Apply Now to Join Our Growing Team

Interested in joining our renowned team of infection control experts? Click here to start your application today.